Re: I-129 Petition for H-1B Classification

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please find attached the I-129 petition for H-1B classification submitted on behalf of the petitioner.

The employer support letter and the underlying project assignment docs clearly show the nature of specialty work that is available as well as clearly demonstrate that the petitioner will have full right of control and will be the entity that will be responsible for supervision of the beneficiary. The nature of work is directly in line with the nature of petitioner's business model which is software and computer systems consulting. Petitioner routinely enters into software contracts with companies that require custom IT and software services. Petitioner's employer support letter is also attached and this shows the nature of supervision and their ability to assign the beneficiary to required work locations. The petitioner will also be responsible for medical benefits, wages and paying the appropriate employment taxes to the appropriate governmental agencies.

In summary documentation has been attached to clearly demonstrate that Specialty Occupation work is available, and the Petitioner has the "right to control" the beneficiary as relates to this employment and thereby maintains the appropriate employer-employee relationship.

I can be reached directly at 972-375-1000 on phone or at chand@spblawfirm.com through email. Please do not hesitate to contact me in case you need any additional information. I sincerely and humbly seek the approval of this petition for a maximum time period as permitted by the law. I have attached the below listed documents for your review.
